WATER USERS WILL TELL SECRETARY TROUBLES

LIVELY MOVEMENT OF WOOL IN SOME WEST SECTIONS

Delegation of Mesilla Valley Land Owners Go to Washington to Lay Elephant Butte Matter Before Mr. Lane.

Las Cruces, N. M., May 18.—Mesilla valley water users will lay their case, arising from the refusal of the water users to pay the storage water rate to the reclamation service, before Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, at the national conference of the Elephant Butte Water Users' association, which is being held at Washington.

The differences between the Mesilla valley water users and the reclamation officials arose over the charge of 50 cents for the use of storage water from the reservoir. This the Las Cruces water users refused to accept and declined to sign the contracts for the delivery of water. Other clauses referring to the rights of way through lands were also objected to by the water users for the Mesilla valley farmers.

An injunction was asked for and a temporary one granted the water users by Edward Medler, judge of the district court sitting at Las Cruces. This injunction followed the shutting off of the water from the community ditches on May first upon orders of the reclamation officials. An effort was made by representatives of El Paso and the El Paso water users to persuade the upper valley land owners to accept the objectionable contract, which a great majority of the lower valley land owners had signed. This they refused to do, one farmer declaring that he would allow his alfalfa to ruin in the field before he signed the contract.

Arguments for and against the making of the temporary injunction permanent were heard Saturday by Judge Medler at Las Cruces and he requested attorneys for the reclamation service and for the water users to submit their briefs to him next week, when he will study them and render a decision. In the meantime, water continues to flow through the ditches.

Sunday, May 19, 1915, has been designated and set apart as Memorial day by his excellency, the governor and commander-in-chief of the national guard of New Mexico, as the one upon which a tribute should be paid to the memory of the soldiers and sailors of the republic who have lost their lives in defense of their country and in upholding the honor and glory of the stars and stripes.

FAY AND WIFE WILL LEAVE FARMINGTON IF COURT PERMITS

Farmington, N. M., May 15.—Yesterday a number of telegrams were sent to Judge Abbott at Santa Fe asking him to commute the jail sentence of James T. Fay, convicted of illegal selling of liquor. Fay, who at one time was a prominent political leader in this county, has agreed to leave the county if his sentence is commuted or suspended.

Sewing Circle With Much Whispering

Before the stork arrives there is much to talk about. The comfort of the expectant mother is the chief topic. And there is sure to be someone who has used or knows of that splendid external help, "Mother's Friend," which is applied to the abdominal muscles, gently rubbed in and has a most pronounced effect as a lubricant. It soothes the network of nerves, enables the muscles to expand naturally, relieves strain on the ligaments and thus sets at ease any undue strain on the organs involved. And it does this with perfect safety. Expectant mothers thus go through the ordeal with comparative ease and comfort. Knowing mothers who have used "Mother's Friend" speak in glowing terms of the absence of morning sickness, absence of strain on the ligaments and a freedom from many other distresses.

One of the most important symptoms to be relieved by "Mother's Friend" is the imagination that so often disturbs repose. Pains, even though natural, may so distort the mind that undue apprehension will sometimes follow. The gentle, soothing influence of "Mother's Friend" gives the mind substantial aid to become conscious of strength and there is a real, physical sensibility of muscular vigor as evidenced by freedom from undue strain.

You can get "Mother's Friend" at any drug store or they will gladly get it for you. Write today to Bradford Regulator Co., 761 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. for a highly instructive book of great value to all expectant mothers. It contains a valuable expectancy chart, rules on diet and is bristling with suggestions that all women will appreciate.

Utah Clip Practically Cleaned Up Says Boston Report; Shearing Well Under Way In Southwest But No Buying.

The Boston Commercial Bulletin, reviewing last week's operations in wool in Boston and the country, says in part:

Manufacturers have shown rather more interest in wool during the week and inquiries have crystallized into orders involving a fair volume of business, largely of foreign wool. The pronounced manner in which wool has demonstrated its mastery of the situation in the practical recovery of the opening decline in crossbreds at the London sales and the hardening of merinos appears to have induced the belief quite generally that wool is likely to remain on a high level for some time to come.

Prices here have not changed materially during the week and no more can be said than that the market is firmer. Worst manufacturers have taken the great bulk of the wools sold, although a little more inquiry is reported on account of the woolen mills. Apparently the mills are anticipating their needs more or less at the moment, as the conditions regarding the goods market do not indicate any marked need or raw material.

In the West. Wool is being taken more freely in the west this week in several sections. Utah is being cleaned up pretty rapidly according to certain buyers who state that 80 per cent of the northern Utah clip has been purchased, while 50 to 60 per cent of the wool in southern Utah is said to have been sold. Medium wools in the territory sections are moving at around 25 to 27 cents and fine and fine medium wools at 20 to 22 cents in southern Utah or around 62 to 65 cents landed basis for fine and fine medium wool.

Some wool is being contracted in the triangle section also at 25 to 26 cents for medium and some wools have brought even more money. In Oregon and Washington buying has decreased somewhat but offers at around 17 cents are reported on fine wools. Little business is reported from Nevada as yet and not much appears to have been done in Idaho.

In Wyoming, the leading manufacturer's buyer has taken the Casgriff clip, according to current reports, at 18 1/2 cents. This price is said to mean a clean landed cost of fully 70 cents. The next lower bid is reported to have been 16 1/2 cents. Mail addresses concerning the clip in the vicinity of Laramie which were put up at stated bids last week state that the wools are being held at higher prices than those bid, namely 18 1/2 to 22 1/2 cents, and in the event that better prices are not obtained that the wool will be shipped east on consignment.

Shearing is getting under way in the vicinity of Roswell, New Mexico, and is well along in Texas and California. No news of shearing is received from any of these states. Demand for all territory wools has necessarily been circumscribed by the limited quantities to be had. Some fine Arizona wools have been sold this week in modest quantities at 67 cents, clean. New Utah fine medium and half-blood wool has been sold this week in the local market at a clean basis of about 45 cents, although some wool wool is said to be held above this figure, possibly 67 cents clean basis.

WIFE OF SECRETARY OF STATE LUCERO DIES IN SANTA FE

Santa Fe, N. M., May 18.—Mrs. Antonio Lucero, wife of Secretary of State Antonio Lucero, died last night at her home in this city after an illness of several weeks, aged 48 years. She was Miss Julianita Romero, daughter of a prominent San Miguel county family. Mr. and Mrs. Lucero had just completed a handsome new home in this city.

SELLERS' PLAN IS POLICEMAN NO LONGER A JOKE SAYS OFFICER

Scheme for General Contributions on Installment Plan Advocated Chiefly for Its Psychological Effect.

Col. D. K. B. Sellers left this afternoon for Santa Fe to attend a conference of Democrats to be held tonight. Governor McDonald and other prominent Democrats will attend the meeting at which plans for financing the Democratic campaign next year will be considered.

Much interest has been aroused throughout the state in Colonel Sellers' plan for raising a fund. It is the colonel's idea to have monthly contributions made by the rank and file of the party from now until next year's campaign is ready for launching. Office holders, federal and state, will also be asked to pay a small monthly installment, and it is figured that it would be easy, by this means, to raise close to $100,000.

Colonel Sellers' idea is not alone to provide cash for the campaign, but to solidify the ranks of the party and arouse in 10,000 Democrats throughout the state an active, personal interest in the success of the party. The colonel is more interested in the psychological effect of the contribution on the contributor himself than on the war chest. He argues that a man who has two dollars of his own money invested in a campaign, is crammed full of interest in the success of that campaign and is ready to take an active part in it himself.

"We want," said Colonel Sellers in discussing his plan, "to make the everyday member of the party as much a part of the organization as the office holder of the other leaders. The plan I have suggested is a plan for an organization that will be all head and no tail; pure Democracy of the Jeffersonian kind, with everybody feeling that he is an actual part of the organization and of the campaign."

Colonel Sellers has already laid his plan before the state leaders, but tonight he will expatiate on it and outline the details. The idea has met with statewide favor, and the colonel has a stack of letters expressing enthusiastic approval of it.

There has been a suggestion that the colonel be made chairman of the state committee. From several quarters in the state the cry has come to put Sellers at the helm.

That Sellers would accept the place if it were offered him is not certain. He has always been ready to put on the harness at the call of the party, but it is said that at this time the colonel is not seeking preferment of any sort for himself. He has stated lately on several occasions that he "has no ambitions."

Injured Miners Recover. As by almost a miracle the three miners injured near here last week when a bucket in which they were being lowered into the bottom of a shaft got away and fell to the bottom. Two of the men were horribly crushed and there appeared no hope for their recovery. Prompt surgical attention, however, saved them. The third man, who rode the bucket to the bottom and appeared only slightly injured, has developed internal injuries which may make him permanently a cripple.

SECOND OF STRIKE MURDER TRIALS UNDER WAY

Some Progress Made in Selection of Jury Today to Try Robert Uhrich for Alleged Killing of Mack Powell.

Trinidad, Colo., May 18.—Examination of takersmen was resumed this morning, the opening of the second day of the trial of Robert Uhrich, president of the Trinidad Miners' union, charged with the murder of Mack Powell, killed during a battle between strikers and deputy sheriffs, October 9, 1912.

But fifteen out of forty-five members of the venire selected by jurors remained to be examined at the session today. One was excused on the claim of defective hearing. Seven men accepted by both state and defense were in the box and attorneys for both sides stated this morning that it was doubtful whether the remaining five to complete the jury would be selected and that a special venire might be called for later today.

Mrs. Alice Stebbins Wells, of Los Angeles Tells of Growth of Movement Throughout the United States.

Baltimore, Md., May 18.—A policeman, Mrs. Alice Stebbins Wells, of Los Angeles, Calif., was given close attention by a special section of the national conference of charities and correction here today when she told of policemen's work.

For a long time past, she said, the "woman policeman" has been a flimsy figure of the imagination, held up to the scorn of the absurd and impossible, but though the last echo of derision still reverberates, there has grown a policeman movement as great in strength and size as any recent humanitarian movement has attained in equal time.

As the latest list of cities which have added regular policemen as an integral part of the police department for outside work, she named Chicago, as leading with 20; Los Angeles, Baltimore and Seattle with 5 each; San Francisco and St. Paul 3 each; Toledo, Minneapolis, Dayton and Toronto, 2 each; Vancouver, Fargo, Grand Forks, Rochester, N. Y., Ottawa, Aurora, San Antonio, Syracuse, Denver, Muncie, Colorado Springs, Superior, Jamestown, N. Y., Fort Wayne, Ind., Racine, Wis., and Phoenix, Ariz., one each. She also believed that such cities as, Seattle and Omaha, Neb., Boston and Salem, Mass., Bellingham, Wash., and Ithaca, N. Y., were to be included in the list and she named Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Des Moines, Ia., as places where a policeman was paid from private funds, with approval of the chief. In addition there were numerous cities which employed police matrons.

She had found upon investigation that the United States led in this departure, for notwithstanding reports of the employment of policemen in foreign countries she had been unable to learn that they were officially employed abroad except in Norway; and in England in a voluntary way.

The need of women on the police force has arisen, she said, from the fact that industrial and social energy no longer centered in the home, but has given us an age in which men, women and children, eat, sleep, work and play together as never before in the world's history.

Mrs. Wells was the first policeman in Los Angeles, the post being created upon her initiative. "I had charge of this work," she said, "and I know two things: That girls and women in trouble have a right to the sympathetic help of women officers; and that men officers have a right to exemption from what may be a constant temptation to the weak, and from enforced and unnecessary association with those who, if resentful, may cast a cloud upon the reputation of the most exemplary. The best officers are the most reluctant to undertake alone the handling of girls, and will sometimes resign in preference."

Mrs. Wells told how the policeman's work took her into the home to talk to mother and daughter as no man could hope to do, and of numerous other police activities in which women engaged.

"I would not give the impression," she said, "that the policeman's work is a silver lining or an ornamental fringe to the very dark clouds of law enforcement for which a policeman stands in the average mind. She is an integral part of the enforcement, but her largest and best work is to prevent, for the securing of obedience to law is the very best form of law enforcement."

"Does the policeman make arrests?" is a question asked. Indeed she does—but as few as possible, and those in keeping with the spirit of the work. She does not try to do the traditional work of the policeman on the street, but when a girl is to be brought in and held for any reason, it is right for the policeman to go and bring her in. If she has to summon to court the proprietor of a place of amusement, she does so. These constitute arrests, yet are no more spectacular or unwomanly than the work daily performed by other business and professional women."

Concluding with an advocacy of the extension of state police Mrs. Wells saw still further work for policemen. She believed they would some day be mutually exchanged between the large cities of any one state, traveling from one to the other, inognito fashion, and be able to reveal in the strange cities hitherto unsuspected conditions.

Miss Mae McMullin, daughter of the chief of police, arrived this afternoon from Winslow, Ariz., where she is principal of a domestic science department of the high school, to spend the summer vacation with her parents. She will return to Winslow next year at an increased salary.

THE best Kentucky Burley cannot become VELVET through any "hurry-up" process. Our experts are not satisfied with VELVET until it has been aged in wooden casks for not less than two years.

If there was any other way of taking the "bite" and "harshness" out of tobacco we would know it. But there is not, and even if you expended great ingenuity on a "hurry-up" process, you would find that Nature's way—the VELVET way—is the only way.
